

Visiting Legislators

February 27, 2020

Raleigh Legislative Visits

An opportunity to talk one on one with our elected decision makers

Communicate that recycling is driving job growth in your state

Develop understanding why recycling should be supported

Position officials for future issues

Why is this event important?

- Representatives and Senators want to hear from you
- Dispel the myth that recycling is a burdensome government regulation
- What started as an environmental movement is now a significant driver in our economy
- Adequate markets exist, in fact we face material shortfalls

What to ask:

- I will be in Raleigh next week for a conference.
- I am a constituent. (Or my company operates in your district.)
- I would like a ten (10) minute appointment on Wednesday afternoon to introduce myself.
- I hope also the Senator/Representative can join us for a reception at the Convention Center at 4:30-6:30 Tuesday.

What to ask when you meet:

- I want you to know about recycling in our community.
- I want you to know that recycling is working much better than you hear in the media.
- I want you to know that recycling is creating jobs and economic growth in North Carolina.
- I invite you to visit these businesses (insert your local businesses) in your district, and I will be glad to arrange a visit.

Recycling Infrastructure Grant Program Open

Southeastern communities can get funding for household recycling investments
